

CloudXeus Billing and Renewals FAQ

Finance and Customer Success Reference - April 2026

Billing Overview

CloudXeus invoices are issued monthly unless the customer contract specifies annual prepayment. Managed service fees are billed in advance. Consumption pass-through charges are billed based on the reporting period defined in the customer agreement.

Payment Terms

Customer type	Default payment term	Notes
Standard commercial customer	Net 30	Applies unless contract states otherwise.
Enterprise agreement customer	Net 45	Requires signed enterprise order form.
Project-only engagement	Milestone based	Payment schedule follows the statement of work.

Renewals

Customer success managers begin renewal planning 90 days before the contract end date. Renewal discussions should review service performance, open risks, new business priorities, and any changes in support plan requirements.

Premium support renewals must confirm whether 24x7 Severity 1 coverage is still required. Advisory hours do not roll over after the end of the monthly service period.

Common Billing Questions

- Invoices can be reissued when the purchase order number or billing contact is incorrect.
- Disputed invoice items should be raised within 15 calendar days of invoice receipt.
- Service credits are reviewed only when a contractual SLA target has been missed and the customer submits a valid claim.
- Training workshops and AI discovery workshops are billed separately unless included in the statement of work.